

Art Cart of Disability Joy

Join us to draw, colour, chat and discuss ideas around disabled joy.

On Tuesday 22nd July (10am-4pm) and Wednesday 23rd July (11am-3pm and 5pm-7pm), Bath City Centre

We Are The People team will be joined by artist, Stephen Lee Hodgkins, and his Art Cart to ask the question: What is disability joy?

We want to hear from disabled people and non-disabled people about their experiences of finding the positives/joy associated with disability, such as feelings of belonging and community, and promoting inclusive ways of thinking. We will also explore how to reclaim disability joy against a hardened political climate.

About Stephen Lee Hodgkins:

Stephen is a disabled researcher and artist who specialises in creative storytelling through doodling and printmaking. Stephen is the creator of the 'Disabled People's Organisations' mural located on display at the Newton Park Campus of Bath Spa University.

About We Are The People:

We Are The People are a small research team of disabled academics and non-disabled allies engaged in disability research and disability activism based at Bath Spa University. With a five-year, grant from the Wellcome Trust

we have been exploring issues which affect disabled people in South West England.
